The wine advocate 2016:

- Cabrida 2014: 92 Points. The 2014 Cabrida already shows the new direction for the estate—especially for 2015—towards finer, more complex and delicate wines with judicious use of oak and more fruit-driven and fresh. Those seem like deep changes, and this pure old vine Garnacha is the blend of many micro-vinifications in open 500-liter oak barrels with some floral and wild berry aromas, and a core of sweet spices and earth. The palate is quite delicate, with a fine texture, with chalky tannins and good freshness.

"It seems like some deep changes have happened at the cooperative of Capçanes with a new technical team and a new direction towards finer, more complex and delicate wines with judicious use of oak, fruit-driven and fresher."

Jancis Robinson "A Catalan Collection":

- Capçanes Cabrida 2011, 17.5p: Old Garnacha with a year in French barriques. Warm and rich on the nose but with real refreshment on the palate. More sinewy than a typical Châteauneuf. Refined. Recalls the David Sadie Grenache a bit. Fine and muscular. Amazingly persistent. Drink 2014- 2020 • £29 Berry Bros & Rudd, Little Wine Club

“The Wine Advocate”, Robert Parker, USA 2014

- Cabrida (2012): 91pThe 2012 Cabrida is pure Garnacha, again not a shy wine at all, with 15% alcohol well-integrated into the wine, which shows powerful aromas and flavors of ripe red fruits and equally powerful, yet balanced, palate with good acidity and length. Drink 2015-2020. $65

"Restaurant Wine" newsletter, by Ronn Wiegand, USA 2013:

- Cabrida 2010, ????? EXCEPTIONAL quality Cabrida is a single vineyard bottling produced from very old vines. It is very rich and full bodied; a complex, well balanced wine with rich fruitiness (blueberry, cranberry, raspberry jam), evident oak character (vanilla, toast, spicy oak), and a very long, mildly tannic finish. Exceptional. 100% Garnacha. Aged 12 months in new French oak barrels.

"Peñín Guide, Top wines from Spain", Spain, 2013/2014:

- Cabrida 2009. 91p Colour: deep cherry, granet rim. Nose: wild herbs, ripe fruits, sweet spices. Palate: floavourful, good structure, good acidity.

"Markus del Monego & Andreas Larsson", Tasted Journal, 100% Blind Spain, Oct 2012:

- Cabrida 2009; 88.5p: AL - Medium deep ruby; rather restrained nose of wood, spices, red and dark berries; quite structured and firm palate with young tannin, restrained fruit, some woody notes and a long, tight finish. MdM - Dark, purple red with violet hue and almost black centre. Ripe aromas, spicy and slightly mineral touch with juicy fruit. On the palate well balanced with well integrated tannins and juicy character.

"Wein- plus", Germany 2012:

- Cabrida 2009; 89p: Clean, fairly polished nose, ripe partly preserved red berries and some black berries, dried floral notes, hint of Provencal herbs, mineral traces in the background. Juicy, clear, slightly jammy fruit on the palate, very fine, mature tannins, delicate acid bite, powerful but also harmonious, elegant herbaceous notes, prominent mineral notes in the background, good persistence and has some depth, very creamy, slightly astringent on a very good finish.
